Watch for future public meetings to discuss:

- housing and residential land use;
- agriculture, agribusiness, commercial business and industry;
- Town (highway, emergency, parks, water, sewer, trash) and public (gas, electric, cable TV, internet) services;
- environmental concerns;
- County and surrounding Town plans.

TOWN OF BYRON

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN

What is a comprehensive plan?

A comprehensive plan documents a community's vision for the future.

What's wrong with the current comprehensive plan?

The current plan was adopted on October 13, 1993 and intended to "serve the Town of Byron for the next 20 years." Changes have occurred in Byron over those 20 years and the plan clearly needs to be updated.

What is the process?

Identify where the Town is today and what the vision is for the future.

- Land use
- Natural resources
- Demographics
- Infrastructure – including transportation facilities and public and private utilities
- Housing - including current and future needs
- Measures, programs, devices, and instruments intended to implement the goals and objectives

Write a draft plan.

Hold public hearings.

Plan is referred to County Planning Board for review.

Plan is subject to SEQR procedures.

Plan must include maximum intervals for periodic review or update.

Plan is adopted by the Byron Town Board.
